

The frequency allocation for the 60M band should include subband allocations to protect narrowband emission types such as CW, RTTY and digital modes. An allocation of 50KHz narrowband, and 100KHz for voice would seem reasonable.